REGISTERED NURSE
SOC 29-1141

Registered Nurses (RNs) are the backbone of health care, providing direct patient care, assisting with medical procedures, and ensuring the well-being of individuals in hospitals, clinics, and other health care settings. They work closely with doctors, therapists, and other medical professionals to deliver life-saving care and support.

Starting Annual Salary
$64,613

2022-2032 Job Growth
+8%

Minimum Education Required
Associate Degree

Scan or click to explore this career's full regional profile:

bit.ly/hrtx-registered-nurse

Regional Training Programs

Baylor - Bachelor's Degree Nursing Program

Hill - Vocational Nursing Program

Hill - Associate Degree Nursing Program

MCC - Vocational Nursing Program

MCC - Associate Degree Nursing Program

Navarro - Vocational Nursing Program

Navarro - Associate Degree Nursing Program

Scan to watch an overview video for this career:

Career Entry Options & Requirements

- Completion of an accredited nursing program is required.
- Pass the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN).
- A nursing diploma, LVN-RN bridge program, associate degree, and bachelor's degree are approved paths for this career.